- 9:10 Keynote (hybrid)
- Rebeca Grynspan, Secretary General, UNCTAD

9:40 Parallel Sessions:

- The future of development cooperation

For many decades, the OECD approach was the dominant normative framework. However, current understandings of development cooperation have become more complex and diverse. The rise of South-South cooperation is one prominent example for a distinct additional concept of development cooperation. Further examples in current debates that reframe development cooperation relate to discourses on global public goods and the global common good.

- Task Force: Global Health

Task Force Co-Chairs will present their key policy recommendations based on the Task Force Issue Papers and discuss their implementation with G7 Officials and representatives of international organisations. It is also envisaged to involve the respective T20 Task Force Co-Chairs and other stakeholders, e.g. from other G7 Engagement Groups.

10:40 Coffee Break

11:00 Plenary Session: Thinking ahead - The T7 Road from Germany to Japan (hybrid)

The roles of and expectations towards think tanks are subject to significant changes in light of an increasingly contested geo-political system and domestic settings. This panel will reflect on the future role of think tanks, with a particular focus on the future role and structure of the T7.

11:50 Break to move to breakout rooms

12:00 Parallel Sessions:

- Supporting democracy
- Feminist external policy

- International trade cooperation
- Measurement of prosperity

The parallel sessions will involve G7 stakeholders, in particular the G7 Engagement Groups but also implementers from business, politics and civil society.

13:00 Lunch Break

14:00 Parallel Sessions:

- International tax cooperation
- Just transition
- Empowering Digital Citizens

The parallel sessions will involve G7 stakeholders, in particular the G7 Engagement Groups but also implementers from business, politics and civil society.

15:00 Coffee Break

15:20 Plenary Session: The impact of the G7 on future generations

The panel brings together youth representatives with an audience of policy thinkers and think tank representatives. Together they will discuss challenges – e.g., the lack of youth representation seems especially pressing when it comes to topics and decisions that directly affect their future on this planet – and the politics of youth representation in global governance forums like the G7. The discussion is meant to be an interactive dialogue between representatives of youth engagement and experts within the realm of global governance, G7 and Think7.

16:20 Closing Remarks
